TOM'S GEOGRAPHY TESTER

The names of several large cities in foreign countries are concealed in the objects pictured on the maps. By naming the objects, you will form the names of the cities. Each map is of the country in which the large city is located, and your friends are dressed in typical costumes of that country to give you an extra hint. So start decoding the hidden words and find out that geography can be fun!

A JERRY and TUFFY ALPHABETEASER

This is a game Jerry and Tuffy played to make it more fun to solve the word problems Tom gave them for homework. You can play it alone or with a friend, one being Jerry and the other, Tuffy. Paste the letter squares on cardboard and cut out. The set with Jerry's picture goes on the left-hand side; the set with Tuffy's picture on the right. To the series of two-letter words at the bottom of the page, Jerry adds a first letter that will form a three-letter word fitting the definition given. Then Tuffy adds the correct last letter to build a four-letter word suiting the definition on the right. For added fun, see how many more words you can think up that work out like the ones given here.

GROWLERS AND PROWLERS

SPIKE'S SPELLING SPREE

Tyke had trouble with spelling in school, so Spike invented this game. Now Tyke is learning to spell, and having fun doing it. Paste this page on cardboard, cut out the cards, and fold along the dotted lines so they will stand. Place them on the floor about one half inch apart, in the same position as they are pictured here. Give each player a marble, a pencil, and a sheet of paper. Now, standing about four feet back, take turns rolling the marble toward the upright cards, trying to knock down as many as possible.

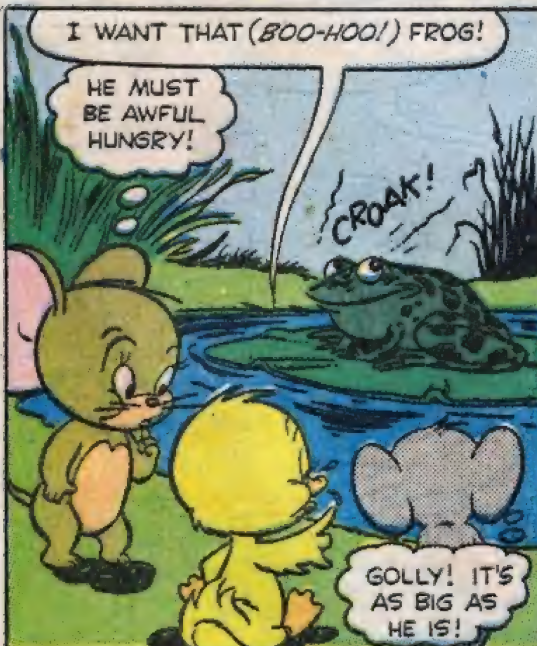

Then, using each letter on the fallen cards only once, all players make as many words as they can. Each word counts one point. If the name of any character pictured on the fallen cards can be formed, add an extra point for each letter in the name. The letters are so placed that even if only one card is knocked over, a word can be made. After each turn, set the cards up again for the next player. After each player has had three turns, add the scores. The one with the most points is the best speller.

T-H-E PUZZLERS

When Tom and Jerry first saw these letter puzzles in their schoolbook, they thought they looked so easy that even little Tuffy could work them without much trouble. But when they tried them, they found out what real puzzlers they are. You will, too. Paste the letters on cardboard, cut them out, then cut them into sections along the dotted lines. A word of warning: study the dividing lines on the letters well before cutting them. Now, try to put them back together!

JERRY and TUFFY'S RECESS FUN

When recess time comes, Jerry and Tuffy always run to the seesaw. Why don't you assemble this model and watch them? Cut along the outlines of Jerry and Tuffy and all around the seesaw. Then fold on the dotted lines, paste the tabs together, and paste Jerry and Tuffy onto the spots indicated at the ends of the seesaw. Now you are ready for the fun!

MOUSE SCHOOLHOUSE

Jerry and Tuffy have their own schoolhouse . . . and Tom is the Truant Officer. Paste this page on stiff paper and cut out all the pieces. To assemble the schoolhouse, fold on the heavy lines, cut along the dotted lines, and paste the tabs together. Then slip the belfry into the slots in the roof. When you stand the figure of Tom near the front door, you will see why Jerry and Tuffy never play hooky.

Jerry and Tuffy are very happy about the message written on the fence. The key to decoding it is on the posters. Write down the names of the objects above and below the lines. Then cross out any letters that appear on both sides of the lines — one letter above the line for one letter below. The remaining letters, rearranged, will form the three words that fit into the squares. The sample puzzle shows you how it is done.

JERRY and TUFFY'S FINAL EXAM

This is the final exam which Tom prepared for Jerry and Tuffy. Why don't you test your own skill and see if you can get 100%?

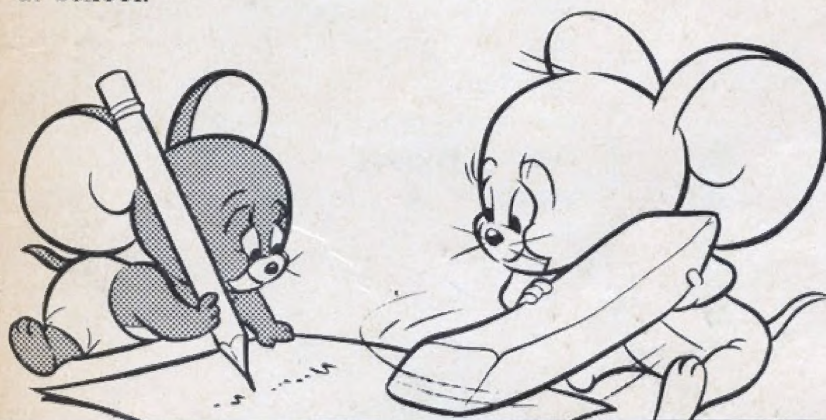

Take a good look at these pictures. Now answer these questions about them:

- 1) Is line 1 longer or shorter than 2?
- 2) What about lines 3 and 4 — which is taller? Are they the same?
- 3) Which black dot is the larger?

Identify the two objects which Jerry and Tuffy are using in the pictures and cross out the letters in these squares which spell the names of those objects. Now rearrange the remaining letters to form the name of a third object which you use at school.

an Apple for the Teacher!

When Jerry and Tuffy went to school the first day, they took an apple with a big surprise in it to teacher Tom. To see what happened, assemble the pictures of Tom and the apple.

First, cut out the picture above and the circle of Tom. Then cut along all the dotted lines. To put the two pictures together, place the circle under the cutout part of the apple, then slip tab A under the top arc and tab B under the bottom one. Now you are ready for action. By moving tab B back and forth, you can watch Tom's reaction to Jerry and Tuffy's surprise.
